CC Docket No. 98-171

Comments Due: June 16, 2000

Reply Comments Due: June 23, 2000

On May 15, 2000, the administrators for the long-term local number portability, numbering administration, Telecommunications Relay Services, and universal service support mechanisms filed a supplemental joint submission regarding procedures for gathering data from telecommunications carriers and other contributors to these mechanisms.¹ Contributors to these four mechanisms file data used to calculate their contributions by using a consolidated worksheet, the Telecommunications Reporting Worksheet (FCC Form 499). In particular, the administrators propose that the Commission designate the Universal Service Administrative Company (USAC) as the entity responsible for the consolidated worksheet data collection.² In this Public Notice, the Common Carrier Bureau (Bureau) seeks comment on the proposals contained in the Supplemental Joint Submission. The Bureau encourages commenters to indicate whether the proposals in the Supplemental Joint Submission will provide for the efficient collection, validation, and processing of contributor data.

will be equitably apportioned.⁵ On October 12, 1999, the program administrators filed a joint submission addressing data collection procedures and a proposed cost allocation methodology.⁶ In a subsequent Order, released on February 4, 2000, the Bureau directed the National Exchange Carriers Association (NECA) to perform the data collection functions for the April 2000 filing of the Telecommunications Reporting Worksheet and set out procedures for the administrators to submit proposed arrangements for future filings no later than May 15, 2000.⁷
